TECHNOLOGY OF GLOBAL MEASURE

MeetingMatrix International is proud to announce the latest release of its software!

Portsmouth, NH, June 2008 - While still maintaining the robust functionality of its predecessors, MeetingMatrix®: 2007 offers users even more benefits and ease-of-use than ever before. MeetingMatrix prides itself on providing customers with the ability to select a product tailored specifically to their needs, recognizing MeetingMatrix®: 2007 Platinum+ Edition as the most comprehensive solution on the market today. The new software allows for a faster, more flexible installation and activation process. It includes enhanced licensing results and an instantaneous product launch. It is also now available in three languages: German, French and Spanish! Users now have the ability to label individual objects for improved organization, as well as indicate a default 2D model. No more waiting, there are now automatic updates. The Control Panel has been completely revamped, and there is an automated upgrade process from version 7.x. And now users have the ability to save setup diagrams on a local network. Make sure to enquire about MeetingMatrix®: 2007 today!

Not only is MeetingMatrix proud to announce its latest software release, but the release also coincides with the launch of a new online Customer Center! Customers will have direct access to all of their MeetingMatrix® needs directly off the web. Users can: download updates, gain access to account information, get answers they need in the FAQ section, retrieve diagrams and generate MeetingMessenger lead reports, download printable copies of their diagrams, access information such as products and services, activate the product directly from the Customer Center, update their facility's MeetingMessenger email address, sign up for free webinar training sessions, directly contact technical support, and access the GoToAssist support application, to name a few! Make sure to check out the Customer Center today, it has everything there to make your MeetingMatrix experience a pleasurable one!
